Dear Parents,

We are excited to welcome you to Lake Owego’s 59th summer!

We are counting down the days until we welcome your children to camp for a summer of fun, friends and adventure. It’s an honor to have this opportunity to provide your child with an outstanding camp experience. We realize the level of faith you have placed in us to provide a safe, nurturing, and accepting environment for your son. In order to create this truly special camp experience, we are committed to working very closely with each family before, during, and after the summer, so please keep in touch! This newsletter is filled with valuable information that we think will set your son up for success at camp. Please read it carefully and pay close attention to our electronics policy!

Kyle, Jeff and Johnny

Visiting Day is July 21st
For full-session & extended half session campers
11:30 am - 3:00 pm

Parents, grandparents… The whole family is invited. (No pets please!)

Don’t overdo the food from home, a bountiful camp lunch is provided and campers can only keep treats from home for one day. Please do not bring any food items containing nuts.

Please no “bunk gifts,” it leaves some campers and parents feeling left out and is really not necessary. Your presence is the best gift.

Gratuities are not permitted.

Parent Newsletter 2019
Getting Ready

- Leave one camp shirt out of the trunk and have your camper wear his “Camp Official” on the plane or bus. Camp Officials can be purchased on www.bunkline.com.
- Write a letter to your child before camp starts so it is there for the first mail call.
- Only a small, carry-on bag is allowed on the bus. Duffles, and suitcases should be shipped to and from camp.
- Remember to pack bug spray, a flashlight, a water bottle and sunscreen.
- Pre-addressed, stamped envelopes are helpful to young campers.
- Bunk placement information will not be given out before camp.
- Laundry goes out once a week, so make sure your child has enough socks and underwear for a week.

Letters

We encourage good, old-fashioned letter-writing. At mail-call each day, there is no better feeling for a camper than receiving a real, hand-stamped, hand-written letter or card. Some are treasures that are kept through adulthood. Camp is a low-tech place for children (and adults) to take a break from the hustle-bustle of daily life during the rest of the year. No TVs, no Blackberries, no iPhones, no running to check e-mail. In their place - friends, campfires, teamwork, and, hopefully, personal growth, independence, and self-esteem.

Parents may also send e-mails through the “CampMinder” system (see back page), but letters are better.

Packages

Except for necessities from home that were inadvertently left behind, like a book for school, goggles, shin guards, etc. there is really no reason to send things to camp. Gifts from home like toys or games breed competition between bunkmates and leave some campers feeling left out. Birthday packages are, of course, permitted and encouraged, but no food, please.

Remember all packages are opened in the presence of staff.

Electronics

We do not allow iPod Touches, Kindles, or any device capable of a wifi connection, hand-held games, portable DVD’s, laptops, or cell phones. Even if the wifi connection can be disabled, we do not allow that device in camp.

If they arrive at camp, phones and electronics will be collected, and returned at the end of the summer. First of all, there’s no time to use them, second, they break or are “borrowed” and lost. And lastly, this is CAMP; the perfect time and place to take a break from the onslaught of technology. The whole point of camp life is to live our lives a little differently, a little simpler than we do the rest of the year. Campers can only gain independence if they are truly independent from you and the outside world.

And what about music-only iPods, you may ask? We discourage campers from bringing these for the same reasons listed above. But if your camper can’t leave home without it, their personal music-only device will be restricted - not outside the bunk and only after letter-writing at rest period or before bed, after bunk meeting time. Remember, no wifi connected devices. We suggest basic mp3 players such as Apple shuffles or old-fashioned iPods.

Connect online for photos and more!

Every parent will be able to email their child, check out news from camp, and see up to date photos and videos from the summer using the same login they use to fill out forms.

Among many other things, you will have the ability to email photos to your friends and family.

Just go to “My LOC” on the top right side of the website and you will be directed to the many options available. You can also create guest accounts so that the whole family can connect to the online camp community. Enjoy, and if needed, call us for help!

New Camper Weekend

June 1-2

Calling all new campers! Come up to camp with your family for the day or stay overnight. Meet future bunkmates, participate in camp activities and sing at a campfire! Call the office to RSVP.

Phone Calls

It’s not easy, but part of sending children off to camp is “letting go.” Although phone calls are not necessary, one phone call may be scheduled for first-session campers after July 3rd and for second-session campers after July 28th. The office will schedule as many calls as possible, before or after dinner, until evening activity begins. Please be reassured that there is always a counselor at the telephone. Hearing your parents’ voice for the first time can be upsetting and we will be there to comfort your son. Tears only last milli-seconds after the call — until the first friend walks by, a basketball is dribbled, or a frisbee whizzes by. Don’t worry, but if you have a real concern — call us.
